Muddy Carbon Cross Disc Fork

The Winwood Muddy Disc is something of a rarity. Full carbon legs. Aluminum steerer tube and crown. Handsome styling. Removable cantilever bosses plus disc brake tabs. Which is unusual enough. But what makes this a truly rare species, however, is the cost. Or lack of it.

Winwood is an aftermarket supplier of unusual, high-quality, affordable bicycle components and accessories, including a 29" carbon-wrapped suspension fork, a carbon bottle cage, and their popular clipless pedal platforms. Winwood products are distributed through Quality Bicycle Products and select international distributors. For more information, please visit www.winwoodbikeparts.com.
